Notes on Consolidated Financial Statements

I. Notes on Basic Matters of Importance for Preparing Consolidated Financial Statements, etc.

1. Scope of consolidation

(1) Number and names of consolidated subsidiaries

Number of consolidated subsidiaries: 14

Names of major consolidated subsidiaries:

SUMCO TECHXIV CORPORATION

SUMCO Phoenix Corporation

FORMOSA SUMCO TECHNOLOGY CORPORATION

During the consolidated fiscal year under review, SUMCO Funding Corporation and STX Finance America, Inc. were merged into SUMCO Phoenix Corporation and thus were excluded from the scope of consolidation.

(2) Number and names of non-consolidated subsidiaries

Number of non-consolidated subsidiaries: 4

Name of major non-consolidated subsidiary:

SUMCO Korea Corporation

[Reason for exclusion from the scope of consolidation]

All of these non-consolidated subsidiaries are exempt, as they are small in scale and none of the total of their total assets, net sales, net income (loss) (appropriate amount corresponding to equity ownership) and retained earnings (appropriate amount corresponding to equity ownership) significantly affect the consolidated financial statements.

2. Application of the equity method

(1) Number and names of non-consolidated subsidiaries and affiliates to which the equity method is applied

We do not have any non-consolidated subsidiary or affiliate to which the equity method is applied.

(2) Names of non-consolidated subsidiaries and affiliates to which the equity method is not applied

Name of major non-consolidated subsidiary or affiliate:

SUMCO Korea Corporation

[Reason for non-application of the equity method]

The number of non-consolidated subsidiaries and affiliates to which the equity method is not applied is 4. All 4 companies are exempt from application of the equity method as their influences on net income (appropriate amount corresponding to equity ownership) and retained earnings (appropriate amount corresponding to equity ownership) are minor, and basically insignificant as a whole.

3. Consolidated subsidiaries' business year-end, etc.

The business year of all the consolidated subsidiaries coincides with the Company's consolidated fiscal year.

4. Summary of significant accounting policies

(1) Standards for and method of evaluation of major assets

(a) Marketable securities

Available-for-sale securities

Securities with market value:

We employ the market value method (using the “net assets” method of accounting for valuation differences, and working out the cost by the “moving average cost” method) based on the market price at the balance sheet date, etc.

Securities without market value:

We mainly employ the cost method based on the “moving average cost” method.

(b) Derivatives

We employ the market value method.

(c) Inventories

We mainly employ the cost method based on the periodic average method. (Balance sheet values are calculated using the devaluating book value method based on decreases in profitability.)

(2) Method of depreciation of major depreciable assets

(a) Property, plant and equipment (excluding lease assets pertaining to non-ownership-transfer finance lease transactions)

We mainly employ the straight-line method for buildings and structures, and the constant percentage method for other property, plant and equipment; however, we mainly employ the constant percentage method for structures which were acquired before March 31, 2016.

Service life for buildings and structures is mainly set at 31 years and service life for machinery and transport equipment is mainly set at 5 years.

(b) Intangible assets (excluding lease assets pertaining to non-ownership-transfer finance lease transactions)

As for software, we employ the straight-line method based on the usable period (5 years) set within the Company.

(c) Lease assets (lease assets pertaining to non-ownership-transfer finance lease transactions)

We employ the straight-line method in which the lease period is used as the service life and residual value of the relevant asset falls to zero at the end of the service life.

(3) Standard for provision of major allowances

(a) Allowance for doubtful accounts

In anticipation of potential losses from bad debts, the estimated irrecoverable amount is provided in accordance with the loan loss ratio for general credits and through the individual examination of recoverability for particular credits such as claims to obligors with high possibility of business failure.

(b) Reserve for bonuses

Reserve for bonuses is provided for payment of bonuses to employees in the amount of estimated bonuses, which is attributable to the current fiscal year.

(4) Other important matters for the preparation of consolidated financial statements

(a) Accounting method for retirement benefits

As net defined benefit liability, the difference between retirement benefit obligations and plan assets is recorded based on the estimated amounts as of the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review to provide for payment of retirement benefits to employees. If the amount of plan assets exceeds retirement benefit obligations, the difference is recorded as net defined benefit asset.

In the calculation of retirement benefit obligations, the benefit formula basis is principally used to attribute the estimated amount of retirement benefits to the period up to the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review.

Past service cost is mainly amortized from the time of accrual using the straight-line method over a fixed number of years (10 years) within the employee's average remaining service period at incurrence.

Actuarial difference is mainly amortized using the straight-line method over a fixed number of years (10 years) within the employee's average remaining service period at incurrence, commencing from the next fiscal year of incurrence.

Unrecognized actuarial difference and unrecognized past service cost are recorded as remeasurements of defined benefit plans under accumulated other comprehensive income in equity section after adjusting for tax effects.

(b) Standards for translation of major foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities into Japanese yen

Values of foreign currency-denominated receivables and payables are translated into Japanese yen at the spot rates of foreign exchange markets on the closing dates of accounting for the respective companies, and translation differences are charged to income. Values of assets and liabilities of foreign subsidiaries are translated into Japanese yen at the spot rates of foreign exchange markets on the closing dates of accounting for the respective companies; revenues and expenses are converted to Japanese yen at the average market rates during the periods. Translation differences are inclusively posted in the foreign currency translation adjustments account and non-controlling interests in the equity section.

(c) Major hedge accounting

(Method of hedge accounting)

Deferred hedge processing is performed. Special processing is adopted for interest rate swaps that satisfy the requirements for special processing.

(Hedging instrument and hedged item)

Interest rate swaps are used to avert a risk of fluctuations in market interest rates for borrowed funds and currency forward contracts are used to avert a risk of currency fluctuations associated with anticipated transactions denominated in foreign currencies.

(Hedging policy)

Mainly based on our own risk management policy, we hedge against a risk of fluctuations in market interest rates and a risk of currency fluctuations. As for a risk of fluctuations in market interest rates, we maintain the ratio of borrowings with fixed interest rates to total borrowings above a certain level. Also, as for a risk of currency fluctuations, we arrange currency forward contracts within the scope of anticipated sales.

(Method of assessment of effectiveness of hedges)

In terms of hedging instruments and hedged items, we verify the effectiveness of the hedges based on individual transactions. However, the effectiveness assessment process is curtailed when important conditions such as the principal, interest rate, period and currency are identical in the hedging instrument and the hedged item as, in such a case, it is obvious that the particular hedge is highly effective.

(d) Method and period for amortization of goodwill

Goodwill is evenly amortized over a period of between 15 and 20 years.

(e) Accounting for consumption taxes

The tax exclusion method is adopted for accounting for consumption taxes and local consumption taxes.

5. Changes to presentations

- (1) Since the materiality of the item that had been presented separately as “Insurance income” under non-operating income on the consolidated statement of income for the previous consolidated fiscal year decreased in the consolidated fiscal year under review, it is now included in “Other.”

Please note that “Insurance income” included in “Other” in the consolidated fiscal year under review is 4 million yen.

- (2) Since the materiality of “Loss on sales and retirement of non-current assets” that had been included in “Other” under non-operating expenses on the consolidated statement of income for the previous consolidated fiscal year increased in the consolidated fiscal year under review, it is now presented separately.

Please note that “Loss on sales and retirement of non-current assets” included in “Other” in the previous consolidated fiscal year is 285 million yen.

- (3) Since the materiality of the item that had been presented separately as “Foreign exchange loss” under non-operating expenses on the consolidated statement of income for the previous consolidated fiscal year decreased in the consolidated fiscal year under review, it is now included in “Other.”

Please note that “Foreign exchange loss” included in “Other” in the consolidated fiscal year under review is 120 million yen.

II. Notes to Consolidated Balance Sheet

1. Accumulated depreciation of property, plant and equipment

842,589 million yen

2. Guarantee obligation

Guarantee for employee borrowings from financial institution

264 million yen

3. Land revaluation

We carried out a revaluation of the land owned by the merged company for business use based on the Land Revaluation Law (Law No. 34 of March 31, 1998) and posted the tax equivalent amount on the relevant revaluation difference to the liabilities section as “Deferred income tax liabilities on revaluation reserve for land,” and at the same time posted the amount with the tax equivalent portion deducted to the net assets section as “Land revaluation surplus.”

Method of revaluation

A revaluation was carried out with a reasonable adjustment made for the assessed value of non-current assets as stipulated in Article 2, Item 3 of the Enforcement Order for the Land Revaluation Law (Cabinet Order No. 119 of March 31, 1998).

Date of revaluation:

March 31, 2000

Difference between market value of land at the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review and book value after revaluation:

(3,362) million yen

4. Long- and short-term borrowings

- (1) The Company has borrowings from financial institutions that are subject to financial covenants. These covenants require that the net assets on the Company's consolidated and non-consolidated balance sheet be maintained at certain levels.

The amount borrowed as of the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review is as follows.

|--|-------------------|
| Long-term debt | 2,500 million yen |
| (Repayment of above scheduled within one year) | (— million yen) |

- (2) In order to obtain flexible financing for operating funds, the Company has entered into a commitment line agreement with financial institutions. Financial covenants are attached to the agreement that require net assets in the Company's consolidated and non-consolidated balance sheet and the cash flows from operating activities in the Company's consolidated statement of cash flows to be maintained at certain levels.

The unexecuted loan commitment associated with the commitment line agreement as of December 31, 2018 is as follows.

5. Others

In order for the Company and some of its consolidated subsidiaries to secure polycrystalline silicon, which is the main raw material of silicon wafers, they entered into long-term purchase contracts with polycrystalline silicon producers. In accordance with the contracts, the Company and some of its consolidated subsidiaries have made advance payments to some of the producers.

V. Notes Regarding Financial Instruments

1. Status of financial instruments

(1) Policy for measures relating to financial instruments

The Group limits the fund investments to short-term deposits at financial institutions or the like. It raises funds through borrowings from banks, in particular. It uses derivatives to avert the below-mentioned risk and does not conduct speculative transactions.

(2) Detail of financial instruments and associated risk and risk management system

Notes and accounts receivable are exposed to customer credit risk. For such risk, the Group has systems enabling the management of due dates and balances of each trading partner as well as the constant monitoring of operating status thereof. Such accounts denominated in foreign currencies are exposed to currency fluctuation risk. In order to mitigate such risk, we use currency forward contracts as a hedging instrument. Marketable securities consist of negotiable certificates of deposit with maturities of within three months that are readily convertible into cash and have an immaterial risk of price fluctuation. Investment securities are primarily the shares in companies with which we have business relationships, and are exposed to market price fluctuation risk. We consistently review the holding status of such shares taking into account the market condition and the relationships with each trading partner.

Basically, notes and accounts payable and accrued income taxes, as well as notes and accounts payable – construction, have due dates arriving within six months. Borrowings with floating interest rates are exposed to interest rate fluctuation risk in accordance with the future interest rate hike in the interest rate market. In order to avert such risk and fix interest expenses, we use interest rate swaps for each of a portion of long-term borrowings as a hedging instrument.

The execution and management of derivative transactions are conducted by the department responsible for financing upon approval of approval authority, pursuant to the internal rules governing authority and maximum amounts of such transactions. In order to mitigate relevant credit risk, counterparties of derivative transactions are limited to financial institutions with high credit ratings. The outline of hedge accounting is as shown in “4. Summary of significant accounting policies, (4) Other important matters for the preparation of consolidated financial statements, (c) Major hedge accounting” under “I. Notes on Basic Matters of Importance for Preparing Consolidated Financial Statements, etc.”

We manage liquidity risk in association with financing (risk of failure to execute payment on due date) by means of preparing financial plans every month or by other means.

(3) Supplementary explanation about fair values of financial instruments

The fair values of financial instruments include values based on market prices, or, if there are no market prices, they include reasonably estimated values. Because estimations of such values incorporate changeable factors, applying different assumptions can in some cases change such values. The contracted amounts of derivatives referred to in “2. Fair values of financial instruments” below should not be in themselves considered indicative of the volume of market risk associated with the derivative transactions.

2. Fair values of financial instruments

Amounts on consolidated balance sheet and fair values as of December 31, 2018 and the differences between them are as follows.

Items whose fair value is deemed to be extremely difficult to determine are not included in the following table (Please refer to Note 2.).

(Millions of yen)

| | Consolidated balance sheet amount | Fair value | Difference |
|---|---|------------|------------|
| (1) Cash and time deposits | 57,900 | 57,900 | — |

| (ii) Those to which hedge accounting is applied | (0) | (0) | — |

(*1) Current portion of long-term debt is not included in (2) Short-term borrowings, but included in (5) Long-term debt.

(*2) Receivables and payables arising out of derivative transactions are shown on the net basis. The items that are net debt in total are shown in parentheses.

(Notes) 1. Measurement of fair values of financial instruments

Assets

(1) Cash and time deposits, and (2) Notes and accounts receivable – trade

Because the settlement periods of the above items are short and their fair values are almost the same as their book values, the relevant book values are used.

(3) Marketable securities and investment securities

Marketable securities consist of negotiable certificates of deposit. Because their settlement periods are short and their fair values are almost the same as their book values, the relevant book values are used. Investment securities consist of stocks. Their fair values are based on the prices on stock exchanges.

Liabilities

(1) Notes and accounts payable – trade, (2) Short-term borrowings, (3) Accrued income taxes and (4) Notes and accounts payable – construction

Because the settlement periods of the above items are short and their fair values are almost the same as their book values, the relevant book values are used.

(5) Long-term debt, and (6) Lease obligations

The fair values of these items are measured based on the present value of future cash flows of the total of principal and interest for the residual period, discounted at an interest rate that would be charged for a new similar borrowing or lease.

Derivative transactions

Currency forward contracts are used for currency-related transactions and interest rate swaps are used for interest rate-related transactions.

The fair value of derivatives is based on the assessed value presented to the Company by counterparty financial institutions. Because interest rate swaps that are accounted for by special processing are incorporated, when accounting, with long-term debt that are the hedged items, the fair value of such swaps is included in the fair value of such long-term debt.

2. Because unlisted stocks, etc. (amount on consolidated balance sheet: 100 million yen) have no market prices and their fair values are deemed to be extremely difficult to determine, the amount is not included in "Assets (3) Marketable securities and investment securities."

Notes on Non-Consolidated Financial Statements

I. Notes on Major Accounting Policies

1. Standards for and method of evaluation of assets

(1) Marketable securities

(a) Stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates

We employ the cost method based on the “moving average cost” method.

(b) Available-for-sale securities

Securities with market value:

We employ the market value method (using the “net assets” method of accounting for valuation differences, and working out the cost by the “moving average cost” method) based on the market price at the balance sheet date, etc.

Securities without market value:

We employ the cost method based on the “moving average cost” method.

(2) Derivatives

We employ the market value method.

(3) Inventories

We employ the cost method based on the periodic average method. (Balance sheet values are calculated using the devaluating book value method based on decreases in profitability.)

2. Method of depreciation of non-current assets

(1) Property, plant and equipment (excluding lease assets pertaining to non-ownership-transfer finance lease transactions)

We employ the straight-line method for buildings and structures, and the constant percentage method for other property, plant and equipment; however, we employ the constant percentage method for structures which were acquired before March 31, 2016.

Service life for buildings is mainly set at 31 years and service life for other property, plant and equipment is mainly set at 5 years.

(2) Intangible assets (excluding lease assets pertaining to non-ownership-transfer finance lease transactions)

Software

We employ the straight-line method based on the usable period (5 years) set within the Company.

Other intangible assets

We employ the straight-line method.

(3) Lease assets (lease assets pertaining to non-ownership-transfer finance lease transactions)

We employ the straight-line method in which the lease period is used as the service life and residual value of the relevant asset falls to zero at the end of the service life.

3. Standard for provision of allowances

(1) Allowance for doubtful accounts

In anticipation of potential losses from bad debts, the estimated irrecoverable amount is provided in accordance with the loan loss ratio for general credits and through the individual examination of recoverability for particular credits such as claims to obligors with high possibility of business failure.

(2) Reserve for bonuses

Reserve for bonuses is provided for payment of bonuses to employees in the amount of estimated bonuses, which is attributable to the current business year.

(3) Liability for retirement benefits

Liability for retirement benefits is provided for payment of retirement benefits to employees in the amount deemed accrued at the current business year-end, based on the projected retirement benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets at the current business year-end. If the amount of plan assets exceeds retirement benefit obligations after adjusting for any unrecognized actuarial gain or loss, the difference is recorded as prepaid pension cost.

Past service cost is amortized from the time of accrual using the straight-line method over a fixed number of years (10 years) within the employee's average remaining service period at incurrence.

Actuarial difference is amortized using the straight-line method over a fixed number of years (10 years) within the employee's average remaining service period at incurrence, commencing from the next business year of incurrence.

4. Other important matters for the preparation of non-consolidated financial statements

(1) Hedge accounting

(Method of hedge accounting)

Deferred hedge processing is performed. Special processing is adopted for interest rate swaps that satisfy the requirements for special processing.

(Hedging instrument and hedged item)

Interest rate swaps are used to avert a risk of fluctuations in market interest rates for borrowed funds and currency forward contracts are used to avert a risk of currency fluctuations associated with anticipated transactions denominated in foreign currencies.

(Hedging policy)

Based on our own risk management policy, we hedge against a risk of fluctuations in market interest rates and a risk of currency fluctuations. As for a risk of fluctuations in market interest rates, we maintain the ratio of borrowings with fixed interest rates to total borrowings above a certain level. Also, as for a risk of currency fluctuations, we arrange currency forward contracts within the scope of anticipated sales.

(Method of assessment of effectiveness of hedges)

In terms of hedging instruments and hedged items, we verify the effectiveness of the hedges based on individual transactions. However, the effectiveness assessment process is curtailed when important conditions such as the principal, interest rate, period and currency are identical in the hedging instrument and the hedged item as, in such a case, it is obvious that the particular hedge is highly effective.

(2) Accounting for retirement benefits

The accounting method for the remaining amounts of unrecognized actuarial difference and unrecognized past service cost in relation to retirement benefits is different from the accounting method for those amounts in the consolidated financial statements.

(3) Accounting for consumption taxes

The tax exclusion method is adopted for accounting for consumption taxes and local consumption taxes.

Method of revaluation:

A revaluation was carried out with a reasonable adjustment made for the assessed value of non-current assets as stipulated in Article 2, Item 3 of the Enforcement Order for the Land Revaluation Law (Cabinet Order No. 119 of March 31, 1998).

(Repayment of above scheduled within one year) (— million yen)
